RE: Olin Chemical site, Wilmington, MA.

To whom it may concern:

I am writing to let you all know that I deeply oppose the "Transrail" operating at the Olin Chemical Site in Wilmington, MA. There are densely populated neighborhoods in all directions of this area.

I am the School secretary of one of the two elementary schools in Woburn, which are very close to this area as well. The impact on traffic in an already busy area will certainly be a HUGE, NEGATIVE factor.

Knowing that this site has been recently listed as a Superfund Site by the EPA, why is this action even being considered without remediation first? Do they (the powers to be of this company) even care about the health of their prospective employees who will work at this facility???

Please be reasonable and responsible. Help us so that this facility can not go on line.

I thank you in advance.

Sincerely,
